Open your door and let nature into your home!

Glass has been used in electric devices from electricity's earliest years. It was also the first modernist architects' preferred material. And now the Avent Touch smart switches take the utilization and design of crystal one step further.

Highlight the crispy ambience in a bright room with Avent Touch in radiant white crystal, make it exuberant and exciting with black mirror glass, or choose the grey version for a neutral look. All are made of tempered glass for maximum mechanical resistance.

Avent Traditional

The Avent traditional range includes all the wiring devices you need to enhance the style, comfort, and safety of your customers' homes. From lighting control to entertainment system connections and smart home functions, Avent is ready to meet your clients' current and future needs.
